

Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations

FAO  learning Center: www.fao.org/elearning

Multilingual e-learning courses offered free of charge as a global public good through the FAO  learning Center.

LIST OF COURSES

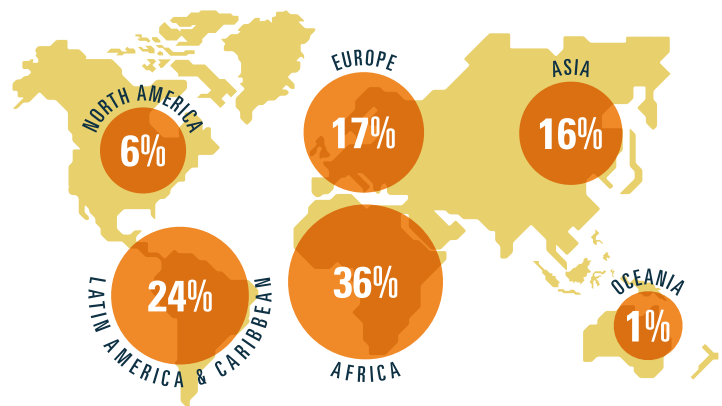

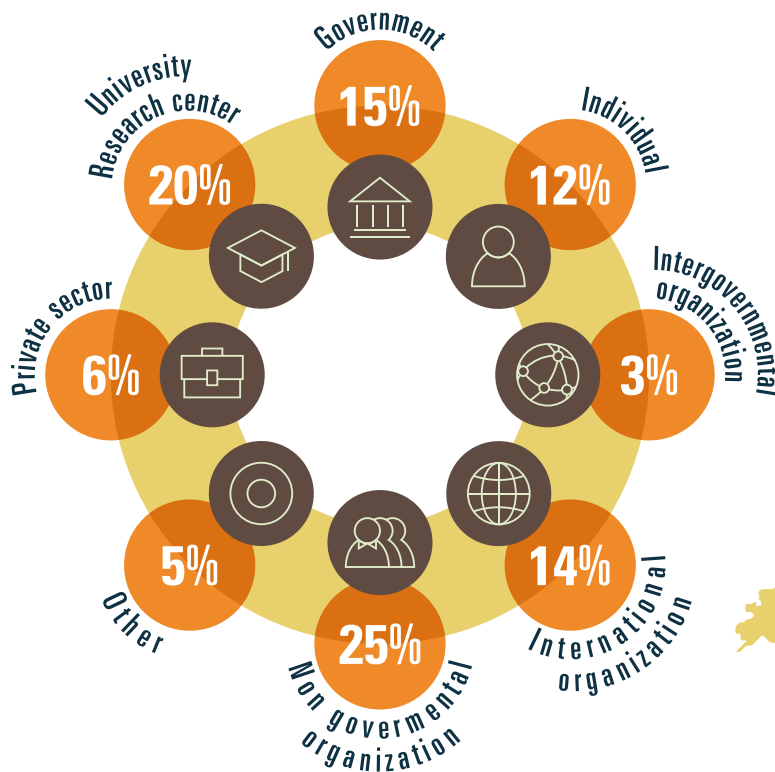

- Food Security Policies: Formulation and Implementation
- Food Security Concepts and Frameworks
- Food Security Information Systems and Networks
- Developing a Monitoring and Evaluation (M&E) Plan for Food Security and Agriculture Programmes
- Qualitative Methods for Assessing the Impact of Development Programmes on Food Security
- Assessing Impact of Development Programmes on Food Security
- Resilience in Food Security Analysis
- Introduction to Social Safety Nets
- Targeting
- End Child Labour in Agriculture
- Business strategies and public-private partnerships to end child labour in agriculture
- Social analysis for agriculture and rural investment projects
- Decent Rural Employment
- Climate Change and Food Security
- Incorporating Climate Change Considerations into Agricultural Investment Programmes
- Enhancing participation in CODEX activities
- Linking Population and Housing Censuses with Agricultural Censuses
- Foundations of CountrySTAT
- Pre-breeding for Effective Use of Plant Genetic Resources
- Nutrition, Food Security and Livelihoods: Basic concepts
- Agreeing on causes of malnutrition for joint action
- Food Composition Data
- Nutritional Status Assessment and Analysis
- Integrated Food Security Phase Classification - version 2
- Remotely Sensed Information for Crop Monitoring and Food Security - Techniques and methods for arid and semi-arid areas
- CAADP Pillar III: Reducing Risks and Improving Food Security
- Vulnerability Assessment and Analysis
- Markets Assessment and Analysis
- Availability Assessment and Analysis
- Baseline Food Security Assessments
- Livelihoods Assessment and Analysis
- Communicating for Food Security
- Collaboration and Advocacy Techniques
- Reporting Food Security Information
- Gender in Food and Nutrition Security
- Spatial Planning in the context of the Responsible Governance of Tenure
- Governing land for women and men
- Addressing Tenure Issues in the Context of Natural Disasters
- Addressing Corruption in the Tenure of Land, Fisheries and Forests
- Addressing Disputes and Conflicts over the Tenure of Natural Resources
- Making Tenure Rights more Secure
- Introduction to the Responsible Governance of Tenure
- Methodologies for Implementing the Right to Food
- A Primer to the Right to Adequate Food
- RuralInvest – Preparing Effective Investment Project Proposals
- Feeding management of dairy cattle in tropical countries
- Communication for Rural development
- Strategic Approaches to Information
- Social Media for Development
- Management of Spatial Information
- Knowledge Sharing for Development
- Digital Libraries, Repositories and Documents
- Networking in Support of Development
- Building Electronic Communities and Networks
- Developing Country Capacity
- Organization Development and Analysis

Who are the courses for?

Our courses can meet the needs of both novice and experienced professionals.

They include staff from national and international NGOs, civil society, national governments, university students and researchers, United Nations field staff, individuals from the private sector.

So far we have reached over 450,000 learners who come from around the globe.

FAO elearning Center

The e-learning courses are free and available as a global public good at: www.fao.org/elearning

Please visit the Center and browse our extensive catalogue in multiple languages. Register once to access over 100 titles.

[😊] Registration is fast and easy.